The character you control is a man in a yellow hazmat suit, and the reason he needs to wear that is that you enter a laboratory where an explosion happened, so everything is hazardous and dangerous, as the title of this game would suggest.
Move using the arrows, or, if you wish, A and D, jump with Up/W, and use Down/S to duck. You can jump from wall to wall as well, and slide on them to make more moves.
Lay bombs using the spacebar, but make sure to keep a distance and not get blown up yourself. Use this for destroying terrain, but, most importantly, against the enemy robots moving around.
Along the way, as you try to reach the end of each level, make sure to collect as many samples from the green vials to get a big score in return.

Good luck and the best we wish you all!
